Hello, My name is Alisha Kelley I am 28 years old from Covington, Indiana, I was born in Danville, Ill. Growing up I had to be the center of attention, jumping in every photo possible. When I was eight years old my grandmother put me in my first photo shoot, that was the day I knew I wanted to be a model. But as the years passed and high school, friends and sports came along I drifted away and pursued them. My grandfather who is no longer with me would tell me I should model, or you look just like a model on a daily basis, I would laugh it off and continue on with my life which gave me two handsome boys, it wasn't until after he passed that I realized I was missing not just him in my life but something else. It was modeling again. I came across Don Jones who showed me exactly what my grandpa had been telling me all these years. The beauty he brings out in my pictures is beyond me and I am very thankful for finding him. I know my grandpa is smiling down on me today. I wanna pursue my modeling career and make it into magazines and hopefully much more and the help from Don Jones I know my goals and dreams will be accomplished

African descent, Cali bred, and Island raised, with an old soul and a little kid at heart, my name is Danielle McCoy. I enjoy being outdoors whether I'm being active playing basketball or volleyball or am sitting down coloring or doing a puzzle. I am a very passionate and genuine person. I always strive to be and do the best I can be. There's a saying I tend to relate to which is "Dynamite comes in small packages, but Nitro comes in even smaller ones."

Dinah likes peace and quiet, laughter and smiles, a kind heart and a gentle touch.

She loves music that makes you dance and cradles you in its sound, food that excites the tastebuds and can make your stomach growl just from the smell.

In her eyes, There's nothing more meaningful than a single flower, nothing more relaxing than a movie on a quiet night, and nothing more perfect than a candle for just the right glow.

Her hobbies are reading and anything that includes spending time with family.

The Merriam-Webster Dictionary describes photography as "the art or process of producing images by the action of radiant energy and especially light on a surface."

Although, this is a correct explanation of what photography is, it doesn't quite encapsulate what I as Je' Amou Photography represents.

"Je' Amou" translates to the words "I love", and what we capture in a photograph is "amou" in its purest form.

No matter who you are, there is that special minute, for example when you first get out of the shower, when you just step out of the barber, or when you first put on them new clothes for the first time. Why not capture that first moment wisely?

The present is a gift worth cherishing. Give yourself the gift that will define your future, for you, your friends, family, and loved ones.

A picture provides a lasting reminder of the feelings. Make an investment on your feelings because no moment can be duplicated but you can guarantee yourself an opportunity to see them again with a Je' Amou photo a.k.a. "Lobos".

Alice Descoteaux

Hi Im Alice Descoteaux

I enjoy modeling because it allows me to express myself creatively through fashion and form. I love to visually bring a sense of drama and dream-like fantasy to life. I make taking care of my body and health a priority, and strive to be the best version of myself that I can be. I am also a photographer as well as a model, so I definitely enjoy and appreciate the whole creative process. In addition, I own and operate a handcrafted organic body products small business, called The Body Emporium, and raise my three year old daughter.

I am Hungarian and I live in Miami ... it's an amazing place to be ... I love it, especially for photoshoots cause it's hot and sunny the whole year round. Sun, beaches and so many different places and styles we can work with. I'm very lucky to live in a place like this.

I very much enjoy modeling and have attended many professional workshops with professional and enthusiast photographers from across Europe and now America as well. I am easy and fun to work with and love varied styles and themes in studio or outdoor. I love changing and stepping into different characters, it's so much fun I can be whoever I want to be, that's the best part. It's a great way to express all the different sides of me.

I haven't been able to spend as much time as I wanted with modeling for a while. I'm just getting more and more serious about it now. Well, I have lots of plans and ideas I'm working on right now. I cannot tell right now but stay tuned. I have a couple of upcoming magazine features during the summer time that I'll be working on. It's gonna be interesting and sexy. I do manage myself but I am looking to change that. I would love to have some people to help me go even further in my career.
