I am a highly skilled photographer with academic training in Art and I absolutely love all things involving a creative process.

I love to shoot all the time, any concept, idea or genre. I love working with others in a collaborative process.

I keep an open dialog as I work, ensuring all sides understand the process to achieve great results. Most people say working with me is fun, enjoyable and rewarding since I give plenty of feedback and create a fun and positive environment as we shoot.

I have also been an Agency photographer. In addition, many of the images I've taken have appeared in various publications and websites.
