Charlie Grace

Charlie Grace Quesenberry

My name is Charlie and I am 8 years old. I have been doing gymnastics for a little over a year. I started in the recreational program and I am now on a USA gymnastics level 3 competitive team. I train 3 days a week for almost 3 hours at a time. For most kids my age this would be overwhelming, but I absolutely love being in the gym. Gymnastics has become an outlet for me, and I truly have a passion for it. Not only do I love the sport itself, I really feel lucky to have a "family" outside of my home. My coaches and teammates have become my second family and my relationships with them are so special to me. Gymnastics is so much more than just earning medals and standing on a podium. It is life changing. When I am doing gymnastics I feel unstoppable, I feel invincible, and I feel like I am on top of the world. Every time I learn how to do a new skill I feel an overwhelming sense of accomplishment. It is so rewarding. My dream is to become a collegiate gymnast, and one day to open my own gym so that I can instill a passion for gymnastics in others.

Chloe Starr
Castro

Chloe Starr Castro

My name is Chloe Starr and Dance is my passion. My life and health are all connected to my body and movements. Dance is a place to inspire and be inspired.

I have been dancing since I was two years old, in styles from Ballet to Highland Dancing. Ballet will always be my heart, but Contemporary and Jazz are life. I became a competitive dancer at age 5 and have enjoyed many years being part of a team. I have been lucky enough to work with amazing choreographers and dancers over the years. As I approach turning 13, I look forward to increased training and traveling!

Getting older means working hard to manage my time. Being a dedicated dancer means balancing school, friends, family, pets, and life outside of the studio. While dance is my passion, school is my priority. I love school and enjoy different clubs, and anything science.

I dream of moving to New York and being on stage! First I want to go to college to study Environmental Science, Biology, and/or Botany (TBD) and, of course, Dance! I know it is a long road of dedication and work to get there and I am ready for the challenge!

Freya Perry

I am Freya Perry and I am currently Training in professional dance and musical theatre at degree level at the Urdang Academy in central London. Getting into this university was a dream for me as it was the institution I had my heart set on for a young age. I began dancing at a very young age and singing followed quickly after. I completed all of my NATD dance examinations in ballet, tap and jazz at distinction level as well as my Trinity musical theatre grade 8 examination a few years back. I have been lucky enough to perform in many musicals across the UK with amateur dramatic companies, my favourite and most rewarding being Phantom of the Opera where I was cast as Carlotta which now is a dream West End role for me. Modelling is something I've always been interested in but never been confident enough, however through the shoots I've previously done I've realised it's where I feel most powerful as expressing myself via clothing, creative works and a variety of looks is extremely rewarding.

Nhamoinesu

I am a very confident African child based in Canada. I love music and dance, the stage and microphone triggers some supernatural magic in me. Representation matters to me and I would like to be an example of people of colour making it to unimaginable places.

I had challenges of fitting in outside of my house because in most cases I will be the odd one or not have any one around me that resembles me. But my mother has taught me so much about self love and assured me that I am ENOUGH and wonderfully and fearfully made.

Being featured on this cover would be one stage to my goal of representing all other people of colour in unseen places, and changing the narratives
